Overview

Altra Industrial Motion Corp., incorporated in 2004, is currently headquartered in Braintree, MA. The company is one of the leading manufacturers and distributors of a diversified range of motion control, electromechanical power transmission and automation products. Its product line includes clutches & brakes, couplings, gears, motion control products, and others. It has production facilities in 16 countries.

The company caters to customers in the energy, general industrial, material handling, food processing, mining, industrial automation, transportation, turf & garden, and other industries.

In the fourth quarter of 2018, Altra Industrial completed the combination of its business operations with four companies of the Automation and Specialty business of Fortive Corporation. Effective from the fourth quarter, the company started reporting revenues under the following heads/segments — Automation & Specialty, and Power Transmission Technologies. The segments are briefly discussed below.

- Power Transmission Technologies (PTT): This segment primarily offers electromagnetic clutches & brakes; couplings, clutches & brakes; and gearings. While electromagnetic clutches & brakes are mainly used in material handling, agricultural machinery, turf & garden, and motion control markets, couplings, clutches & brakes are used in energy and heavy industrial markets. Gearings are used in industrial markets.
- Automation & Specialty (A&S): The segment includes the results of the majority of product brands, including Kollmorgen, Thomson, Portescap and Jacobs Vehicle Systems, acquired as part of the business collaboration with Fortive.

It is worth mentioning that Kollmorgen-branded products are mainly used in aerospace and defense, medical, material handling, packaging, factory automation, semiconductor, robotics, printing and other markets. Portescap-branded products are used in general industrial, medical and industrial power tool markets while Thomson products are used in material handling, medical, food processing, factory automation, mobile off-highway and others. In addition, Jacobs Vehicle Systems-branded products are used in heavy-duty Class 8 trucks.

Reasons To Buy:

- ▲ In the past year, Altra Industrial's shares have declined 0.5% compared with the industry's fall of 1.9%, the fall being narrower than the industry. In first-quarter 2020, the company's earnings and sales surpassed the Zacks Consensus Estimate by 47.7% and 5.5%, respectively. The company noted that workers' safety, providing services to customers, cash generation, solid liquidity position, cost-management initiatives and a healthy supply chain are its priorities in the present difficult environment. Also, it has boosted the production of critical components required in infusion systems, CT scanners, ventilators and other products. Further, it expects to see gains in factory automation and medical equipment markets, going forward. Over the long term, it believes that solid product portfolio, diversified businesses, pricing actions, cross-selling programs and supply-chain initiatives will be beneficial. Further, its technological expertise, e-commerce capabilities and working capital improvement program are expected to aid.
- ▲ We believe that acquisition will remain Altra Industrial's preferred mode for enhancing profitability. In October 2018, the company completed the combination of its operations with four companies of the Automation and Specialty business of Fortive. The combined business, a global leader in motion control and power transmission, has greater access to end markets, solid product offering for customers and better technological expertise. Also, synergies, including value engineering, development of business system, optimization of supply chain and facility consolidations, might be realized going forward.
- ▲ The company seems to be working hard for deleveraging its balance sheet. It believes that strong free cash flow generation will help it pay down debts. In the first quarter of 2020, it repaid $6 million of borrowing under its term-loan facility. Further, a healthy cash balance places the company well to pay its financial obligations. Exiting the first quarter, it had $327 million cash available and $195 million of liquidity under its credit line. Further, a 75% reduction in quarterly dividend rate and capital expenditure of $40-$45 million (revised down from $45-$50 million stated previously) for 2020 will likely enhance its liquidity position.

Altra Industrial's deleveraging actions, solid product offerings, cost-reduction efforts, diversified operations and healthy liquidity might aid, going forward.

Reasons To Sell:

- ▼ In first-quarter 2020, the company's earnings declined 18.8% year over year on weak sales generation (decline of 10.1% in the quarter) and a fall in margins. For 2020, it is wary about the impacts of the pandemic on its financial performance. It now expects earnings (non-GAAP) of $1.67-$2.03 per share, down from $2.40-$2.60 mentioned earlier. Also, sales are predicted to be $1,540-$1,620 million versus the previously mentioned $1,720-$1,770 million. In the second quarter, the company expects sales to decline from the previous quarter. Although the company's earnings estimates for 2020 remained unchanged at $1.84 in the past 30 days, earnings estimates for 2021 fell 2.4% to $2.43 over the same time frame.
- ▼ Altra Industrial operates in a number of end-markets, including construction, general industrial, mining, wind, water infrastructure and aerospace. Though end-market diversification proves to be a boon, a downturn in one or more of these markets might adversely impact the company's financials. Its transportation, distribution, mining, metals, agriculture, turf & garden, medical equipment, and oil & gas markets reported weak results in the first quarter of 2020. The company believes that difficult end-market conditions in the commercial aerospace, wind, general industrial, transportation, mining, turf and garden, and oil & gas in the wake of the coronavirus outbreak will affect its performance in 2020. Further, it believes that the Class A truck business will be weak in 2020.
- ▼ With operations across multiple continents, Altra Industrial's performance is exposed to the adverse impacts of macroeconomic cycles in the United States and international markets. Given its international presence, the company also faces unfavorable foreign currency movements, impacting bottom-line growth. In first-quarter 2020, forex woes had an adverse 1.45% impact on sales. In addition, despite a healthy liquidity position and efforts to deleverage the balance sheet, the company's huge debt level is concerning. Exiting first-quarter 2020, its long-term debt was at $1,658.5 million, reflecting a sequential increase of 6.1%. Also, its total-debt to total-capital was 49.4% at the first-quarter end, up from 45.7% at the end of the fourth quarter of 2019. Also, the fall in times interest earned from 3.0x in the fourth quarter of 2019 to 0.8x in the first quarter of 2020 is more concerning.

The impacts of the coronavirus outbreak can be felt on Altra Industrial's operations, as evident from lowered 2020 projections. Also, forex woes and high debts might prove detrimental to the company, going forward.

Zacks Stock Rating System

We offer two rating systems that take into account investors' holding horizons: Zacks Rank and Zacks Recommendation. Each provides valuable insights into the future profitability of the stock and can be used separately or in combination with each other depending on your investment style.

Zacks Recommendation

The Zacks Recommendation aims to predict performance over the next 6 to 12 months. The foundation for the quantitatively determined Zacks Recommendation is trends in the company's estimate revisions and earnings outlook. The Zacks Recommendation is broken down into 3 Levels; Outperform, Neutral and Underperform. Unlike many Wall Street firms, we have an excellent balance between the number of Outperform and Neutral recommendations. Our team of 70 analysts are fully versed in the benefits of earnings estimate revisions and how that is harnessed through the Zacks quantitative rating system. But we have given our analysts the ability to override the Zacks Recommendation for the 1200 stocks that they follow. The reason for the analyst over-rides is that there are often factors such as valuation, industry conditions and management effectiveness that a trained investment professional can spot better than a quantitative model.

Zacks Rank

The Zacks Rank is our short-term rating system that is most effective over the one- to three-month holding horizon. The underlying driver for the quantitatively-determined Zacks Rank is the same as the Zacks Recommendation, and reflects trends in earnings estimate revisions.

Zacks Style Scores

The Zacks Style Score is as a complementary indicator to the Zacks rating system, giving investors a way to focus on the highest rated stocks that best fit their own stock picking preferences.

Academic research has proven that stocks with the best Value, Growth and Momentum characteristics outperform the market. The Zacks Style Scores rate stocks on each of these individual styles and assigns a rating of A, B, C, D and F. We also produce the VGM Score (V for Value, G for Growth and M for Momentum), which combines the weighted average of the individual Style Scores into one score. This is perfectly suited for those who want their stocks to have the best scores across the board.

Value Score	B
Growth Score	A
Momentum Score	B
VGM Score	A

As an investor, you want to buy stocks with the highest probability of success. That means buying stocks with a Zacks Recommendation of Outperform, which also has a Style Score of an A or a B.
