Summary

GoDaddy is benefiting from well-performing personalized products and services. Further, its robust technology platform is contributing well. Furthermore, growing adoption of its domain products is driving the top-line growth. Rising subscriptions to Websites and Marketing, and robust managed WordPress offerings are driving growth in the Hosting and Presence segment. Further, international expansion, robust feature engagements and strength in GoCentral remain major positives. Additionally, growing momentum of Open-Xchange in the emerging markets is likely to accelerate revenues within the Business Applications segment. However, the company's heavy debt burden and rising expenses are concerns. Also, intensifying market competition poses threat to GoDaddy's market position. The stock has underperformed the industry on a year-to-date basis.

Overview

Based in Scottsdale, AZ, GoDaddy is an Internet domain registrar and web hosting company that also sells e-business related software and services. The company is engaged in the designing and development of cloud-based technology products for small businesses, Web design professionals and individuals.

GoDaddy — listed on the New York Stock Exchange under the ticker “GDDY” — went public on Apr 2, 2015. The company priced its initial offering at $20 a share.

GoDaddy reported revenues of $2.99 billion in 2019, up 12.7% year over year. The company generates revenues from three segments — Domains (45% of revenues), Hosting and Presence Offerings (38%) and Business Applications (17%).

Domain revenues mainly consist of sale of domain name registration subscriptions, domain add-ons and aftermarket sales. Hosting and presence revenues principally consist of subscription sales to their website hosting products, website building products and SSL certificates. Business applications revenues primarily consist of revenues from the sale of subscriptions for email accounts, online calendar, online data storage and email marketing tools.

The company's subscription terms are typically one year but can range from monthly to multi-year contracts of up to 10 years depending on the product. Usually, the company collects the entire subscription fee at the time of sale but recognizes revenues from subscriptions ratably over the applicable contractual terms.

GoDaddy faces significant competition in domain, hosting and presence markets from companies like Endurance, Rightside and Web.com. Additionally, web-hosting and other cloud-based service providers like Amazon, Google and Microsoft that have recently entered the domain name registration business as upstream registries, and eBay and Facebook, which offer robust Internet marketing platforms have intensified competition in the space.

Reasons To Buy:

- ▲ GoDaddy boasts a huge customer base and steady revenue and booking growth. The company has a leading position in the industry, with one out of every five domain registrations. The company had approximately 19.3 million customers as of December 2019, an increase of 4.1% versus a year ago, mainly small and medium-sized businesses that pay annual subscription fees to register domain names and get other online services like web hosting. Also, GoDaddy's bookings increased 12.9% from 2019.
- ▲ Increasing international presence keeps the growth prospects of GoDaddy high. In 2019, the company's 8 million or 44% customers were located in international markets, notably Canada, India and the United Kingdom. To continue expanding its international presence, the company is investing in technology, marketing programs, data centers and customer care teams. Moreover, the acquisition of HEG will continue to help the company in expanding its customer base in international regions.
- ▲ GoDaddy has been supplementing organizational growth with strategic acquisitions. When deciding on a target, management generally looks for a particular niche expertise, which would round out its portfolio or help it to expand its international operations. For this purpose, in April 2017, it acquired Host Europe Group ("HEG"), a European web hosting provider. The deal is strengthening GoDaddy's foothold in the European market. The company also acquired Serbia based WordPress site management tool maker, ManageWP. This deal enables GoDaddy to provide a single destination for web professionals to manage their WordPress sites. The acquisition was intended to augment GoDaddy's portfolio and build its global market share. Further, GoDaddy acquired Main Street Hub in 2018 which helped it in introducing social media management tools.

GoDaddy's leading market position, strategic acquisitions, international expansion and a diversified product portfolio are positives.

Reasons To Sell:

- ▼ GoDaddy faces intense competition in domain, hosting and presence markets from companies like Endurance, Rightside, and Web.com, as well as Amazon, Google and Microsoft which provide web-hosting and other cloud-based services and recently entered the domain name registration business as upstream registries, and eBay and Facebook, offering robust Internet marketing platforms. Along with these big cloud companies, a lot of small hosting companies offer extremely affordable services. (For instance, DigitalOcean).
- ▼ Even after the IPO, GoDaddy carries a substantial debt burden of more than $1 billion. This in turn will take up a lot of cash flow to cover interest payments and make it difficult for the company to navigate if the economy weakens. The debt has to be paid off or refinanced between 2019 and 2021. Moreover, GoDaddy's balance sheet remains highly leveraged. As of Mar 31, 2020, the company's net debt was $1.7 billion compared with $1.5 billion as of Dec 30, 2019. Also, debt-to-total capital was 84.1% as of Mar 31, 2021, much higher than the industry average of 27.7%.
- ▼ We note that GoDaddy currently has a trailing 12 month P/S ratio of 3.45, which compares unfavorably with what the Zacks industry saw over the last year. Hence, valuation looks slightly stretched from a P/S perspective.

The increasing competition and the company's substantial debt burden remain concerns.

Zacks Stock Rating System

We offer two rating systems that take into account investors' holding horizons: Zacks Rank and Zacks Recommendation. Each provides valuable insights into the future profitability of the stock and can be used separately or in combination with each other depending on your investment style.

Zacks Recommendation

The Zacks Recommendation aims to predict performance over the next 6 to 12 months. The foundation for the quantitatively determined Zacks Recommendation is trends in the company's estimate revisions and earnings outlook. The Zacks Recommendation is broken down into 3 Levels; Outperform, Neutral and Underperform. Unlike many Wall Street firms, we have an excellent balance between the number of Outperform and Neutral recommendations. Our team of 70 analysts are fully versed in the benefits of earnings estimate revisions and how that is harnessed through the Zacks quantitative rating system. But we have given our analysts the ability to override the Zacks Recommendation for the 1200 stocks that they follow. The reason for the analyst over-rides is that there are often factors such as valuation, industry conditions and management effectiveness that a trained investment professional can spot better than a quantitative model.

Zacks Rank

The Zacks Rank is our short-term rating system that is most effective over the one- to three-month holding horizon. The underlying driver for the quantitatively-determined Zacks Rank is the same as the Zacks Recommendation, and reflects trends in earnings estimate revisions.

Zacks Style Scores

The Zacks Style Score is as a complementary indicator to the Zacks rating system, giving investors a way to focus on the highest rated stocks that best fit their own stock picking preferences.

Academic research has proven that stocks with the best Value, Growth and Momentum characteristics outperform the market. The Zacks Style Scores rate stocks on each of these individual styles and assigns a rating of A, B, C, D and F. We also produce the VGM Score (V for Value, G for Growth and M for Momentum), which combines the weighted average of the individual Style Scores into one score. This is perfectly suited for those who want their stocks to have the best scores across the board.

Value Score	C
Growth Score	A
Momentum Score	C
VGM Score	B

As an investor, you want to buy stocks with the highest probability of success. That means buying stocks with a Zacks Recommendation of Outperform, which also has a Style Score of an A or a B.
