Summary

MSCI reported impressive fourth-quarter 2019 results. Both earnings and revenues increased on a year-over-year basis. The top line benefited from solid growth in recurring subscriptions, asset-based fees and non-recurring revenues. Increased sales in BarraOne and RiskManager product offerings drove the top line. MSCI is gaining from strong demand for custom and factor index modules and the increasing adoption of the ESG solution into the investment process. Strong traction in client segments, like wealth management, banks and broker dealers, is a positive. Shares have outperformed the industry in the past year. However, increasing demand for low-fee products from other index providers that are targeting new inflows is a headwind for the company.

Overview

MSCI Inc. provides investment decision support tools, including indexes; portfolio construction and risk management products and services; Environmental, Social and Governance ("ESG") research and ratings; and real estate research, reporting and benchmarking offerings.

MSCI reported operating revenues of $1.56 billion in 2019. The company operates under three segments — Index (59.1% of operating revenues), Analytics (31.9%) and All other (9%).

Index segment includes MSCI Global Equity Indexes, MSCI Custom Indexes, MSCI Factor Indexes, MSCI ESG Indexes, MSCI Real Assets Indexes and Thematic Indexes. Global Industry Classification Standard (GICS) and GICS Direct were developed and are maintained jointly by MSCI and Standard & Poor's Financial Services.

Analytics segment includes Equity Factor Models, Fixed Income Factor Models, Multi-Asset Class Factor Models, Multi-Asset Class Risk Analytics and Performance Analytics.

MSCI's major application offerings include RiskMetrics RiskManager, BarraOne, Barra Portfolio Manager, WealthBench & CreditManager, and MSCI Analytics Platform. Through the Analytics segment, MSCI also provides Managed Services, HedgePlatform and InvestorForce solutions.

MSCI's ESG Research analyzes more than 7,800 companies worldwide. Offerings include MSCI ESG Ratings and MSCI ESG Business Involvement Screening Research.

MSCI generates revenues primarily through subscription fees, which, in most of the cases, is paid in advance. Clients using the company's indexes as the basis for index-linked investment products (ETFs) or as the basis for passively managed funds also pay license fee, typically in arrears, based on the assets under management ("AUM") in their investment products.

The company's clientele includes pension funds, endowments, foundations, central banks, sovereign wealth funds, family offices, insurance companies, mutual funds, hedge funds, ETFs, private wealth, private banks, REITs, broker-dealers, exchanges, custodians, trust companies and wealth managers.

As of Sep 30, MSCI served more than 7,000 clients across 85 countries worldwide.

Reasons To Buy:

- ▲ MSCI shares have massively outperformed the S&P 500 market composite in the past five years, primarily driven by consistent top and bottom-line growth, and solid execution. The company benefits from acceleration in the growth of index-based products, equity-ETFs, non-ETF passive investing, and exchange-traded futures and options products. The company is also gaining from strong traction in client segments like wealth management, and banks and broker dealers. An increasing run-rate (annualized value of the recurring revenues under client license agreements) reflects solid growth in clientele. Further, MSCI enjoys high barrier to entry in its operating market, which is a key catalyst.
- ▲ MSCI has a diversified customer base that provides it a significant competitive advantage. As of Sep 30, 2019, the company had more than 7,000 clients. Moreover, index retention rate was a solid 92.9% in fourth-quarter 2019. Growing passive and index-based investing are driving demand for the company's Index products, which have gained strong traction among client segments like wealth management, banks and broker dealers, and hedge funds. The increasing adoption bodes well for the company's index subscription revenue business.
- ▲ MSCI's ESG product line has expanded over time. The ESG indexes are increasingly being used for index product creation in equity ETFs, institutional passive asset allocation and benchmarking purposes. ESG is also gaining traction among fixed income investors. MSCI has begun incorporating natural language processing (NLP) and artificial intelligence (AI) capabilities in its ESG products, which will help in smooth data extraction. This will drive productivity and improve operating leverage.
- ▲ MSCI's open architecture enables it to integrate content with any third party application. This expands customer choice, as they can access content from anywhere. This interoperability feature benefits top-line growth. Moreover, the company continues to actively expand the distribution for its risk and analytics content. It has partnered with Thomson Reuters to integrate its multi-asset class risk analytics within the latter's Eikon platform. The company has also collaborated with Citigroup, Donnelley and Confluence to help mutual funds streamline new SEC reporting obligations.

Acceleration in the growth of index-based products, strong customer base, partnerships, solid ESG demand and aggressive share repurchase are key catalysts.

Reasons To Sell:

- ▼ MSCI revenues are expected to hurt from lower fee products from other index providers that are targeting new inflows. Management expects a continued decline in average basis point fee level. Moreover, higher cancellations in the Index segment don't bode well for top-line growth.
- ▼ MSCI generates more than 40% of revenues from the International markets. Hence, adverse foreign currency exchange rates, owing to the strengthening of the U.S. dollar compared with the Euro and other foreign currencies, remains a concern.
- ▼ Further, MSCI has a highly leveraged balance sheet, which adds to the risk of investing in the company. As of Dec 31, 2019, the company had long-term debt of $3.1 billion.

Growing demand for lower fee products from other index providers and leveraged balance sheet are major concerns.
