Summary

PPL Corporation has a five-year capital investment plan in place to expand renewable-generation capacity as well as focus on new technology to serve customers more efficiently. The company is also concentrating on infrastructure construction projects for generation, transmission and distribution. It has a strong liquidity position, which will enable it to meet its near-term debt obligation without any difficulties. Moreover, the utility is planning to divest its U.K. utility business to focus on core domestic operations and strengthen the balance sheet. Shares of PPL Corp have outperformed the industry in the past three months. However, unplanned outages at power plants may increase expenses, lower revenues as well as affect the utility's financial performance. Also, pollution-control execution costs and legal costs may weigh on the finances.

Overview

Allentown, PA-based PPL Corp. is a diversified utility holding company, was founded in 1920. Currently, the company serves more than 10 million utility customers in the U.S. and the UK. The company primarily generates electricity from power plants in the northeastern, northwestern and southeastern U.S.; markets wholesale or retail energy chiefly in northeastern and northwestern portions of the U.S.; delivers electricity to customers in Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Virginia, Tennessee in the U.S.; and the UK and supplies natural gas in Kentucky. The company has more than 12,280 employees.

PPL Corp.'s principal subsidiaries are: Louisville Gas and Electric Company and Kentucky Utilities Company (LKE), PPL Electric Utilities Corporation, and Western Power Distribution.

The company has three reportable segments. Kentucky Regulated, U.K. Regulated and Pennsylvania Regulated. The segment earnings details are mentioned below:

Kentucky Regulated: In 2019, this segment generated net income and total operating revenues of $436 million and $3.2 billion, respectively. As of Dec 31, 2019, this segment provided services to 1.3 million users scattered across 9,400 square miles of serviceable area.

U.K. Regulated: In 2019 this segment generated net income and total operating revenues of $977 million and $ 2.2 billion, respectively. As of Dec 31, 2019, this segment provided services to 7.9 million users in serviceable area covering 21,600 square miles. While this segment has been delivering a strong performance, the company is planning to sell its international operations and focus the domestic business.

Pennsylvania Regulated: In 2019, this segment generated net income and total operating revenues of $458 million and $2.4 billion each. As of Dec 31, 2019, this segment provided services to 1.4 million users in 10,000 square miles of serviceable area.

The Corporate and Other segments include unallocated corporate-level financing as well as other costs.

Reasons To Buy:

- ▲ PPL Corp. has a strong liquidity position and it will be able to defer capital spending if necessary. The company had liquidity of more than $4 billion at Jun 30, 2020, which is sufficient to meet its near-term debt obligation.

The company's long-term debt amounted to $21,098 million in the second quarter, up from $20,721 million in the fourth quarter 2019. While its times interest earned ratio is at 3.13 in the second quarter, lower than 3.17 fourth-quarter 2019, even then such a strong ratio indicates that the firm will be able to meet debt obligations in the near future without any difficulties. Moreover, shares of the company have gained 9.2% in the past three months, outperforming the industry's rise of 1.5%.

- ▲ PPL Corporation's capital investment plan primarily focuses on infrastructure construction projects for generation, transmission and distribution. After investing $29 billion in the past decade, the company is going to invest $13.8 billion through 2020-2024 of which $5.9 billion was allocated to the U.K. Regulated segment. The company will make investments to strengthen grid, electricity and gas distribution, electricity transmission and expand renewable generation capacity as well as focus on new technology to serve customers more efficiently. These planned investments will expand rate base from $29.9 billion in 2020 to $34.2 billion in 2024 at a CAGR of 4%.

The company's carbon emission reduction target is presently following the objective to meet the below 2-degree Celsius scenario. It plans to reduce carbon emission 80% by 2050 from 2010 levels through introduction of new carbon capture technology and adding more renewable sources in its generation folio.

- ▲ In August, PPL Corp. announced its plans to divest its U.K. utility business. Though Western Power Distribution (WPD) continues to deliver a strong performance, the company believes that this sale and the strategic repositioning of its portfolio to be fully U.S.-base dare expected to boost its shareowner value. The company intends to use the sales proceeds to strengthen its balance sheet and enhance its long-term earnings growth.

Furthermore, this decision will simplify its business mix along with providing greater financial flexibility. Moreover, it will help the company focus on building tomorrow's energy infrastructure and advance toward a cleaner energy future in the United States. Also, with the winding up of the international operations, PPL Corp.'s operations will no more be subject to foreign currency risk.

- ▲ PPL Corp has a long history of dividend payment. On Feb 14, 2020, it announced an increase of its quarterly common stock dividend to 41.5 cents per share. The July 1st dividend payment marked the company's 298th consecutive quarterly dividend payout.

Its current dividend yield is 5.75% compared to industry's average of 3.39%. The strong cash flow generation capacity enables the company to pay consistent dividend to shareholders.

Ongoing capital investments to strengthen infrastructure, divestiture of the U.K. utility, focus on cleaner generation and growth in domestic operation are tailwinds.

Reasons To Sell:

- ▼ Though the company has been executing several pollution-control measures at its power generating facilities, stringent environmental regulations on maintaining clean water is a major concern. The company might have to incur significant costs related to the additional permitting and remediation requirements.

Also, there is an on-going case at the U.S. District Court related to containment of water and the plant's water discharge permit. This is further likely to keep the legal costs and losses of the company high.

Unplanned outages at power plants as well as stringent law and regulations outside the United States are headwinds for PPL Corporation.

- ▼ Operations related to power plants, transmission and distribution facilities, information technology systems as well as other assets and activities subjects the company to a variety of risks. These include the breakdown or failure of equipment, accidents, security breaches, viruses or outages that affect information technology systems, cause labor disputes, lead to obsolescence, create delivery/transportation problems and disruptions of fuel supply as well as dent performance. These events may lead to unplanned outages at power plants. The company's facilities may not operate as planned, which may increase expenses and lower revenues as well as affect financial performance.
  - ▼ The company's businesses are subject to seasonal demand cycles. The company's first quarter earnings decrease driven by lower sales volumes, primarily due to mild weather.

Zacks Stock Rating System

We offer two rating systems that take into account investors' holding horizons: Zacks Rank and Zacks Recommendation. Each provides valuable insights into the future profitability of the stock and can be used separately or in combination with each other depending on your investment style.

Zacks Recommendation

The Zacks Recommendation aims to predict performance over the next 6 to 12 months. The foundation for the quantitatively determined Zacks Recommendation is trends in the company's estimate revisions and earnings outlook. The Zacks Recommendation is broken down into 3 Levels; Outperform, Neutral and Underperform. Unlike many Wall Street firms, we have an excellent balance between the number of Outperform and Neutral recommendations. Our team of 70 analysts are fully versed in the benefits of earnings estimate revisions and how that is harnessed through the Zacks quantitative rating system. But we have given our analysts the ability to override the Zacks Recommendation for the 1200 stocks that they follow. The reason for the analyst over-rides is that there are often factors such as valuation, industry conditions and management effectiveness that a trained investment professional can spot better than a quantitative model.

Zacks Rank

The Zacks Rank is our short-term rating system that is most effective over the one- to three-month holding horizon. The underlying driver for the quantitatively-determined Zacks Rank is the same as the Zacks Recommendation, and reflects trends in earnings estimate revisions.

---

Zacks Style Scores

The Zacks Style Score is as a complementary indicator to the Zacks rating system, giving investors a way to focus on the highest rated stocks that best fit their own stock picking preferences.

Academic research has proven that stocks with the best Value, Growth and Momentum characteristics outperform the market. The Zacks Style Scores rate stocks on each of these individual styles and assigns a rating of A, B, C, D and F. We also produce the VGM Score (V for Value, G for Growth and M for Momentum), which combines the weighted average of the individual Style Scores into one score. This is perfectly suited for those who want their stocks to have the best scores across the board.

Value Score	B
Growth Score	D
Momentum Score	B
VGM Score	C

As an investor, you want to buy stocks with the highest probability of success. That means buying stocks with a Zacks Recommendation of Outperform, which also has a Style Score of an A or a B.
