Summary

Voya Financial, Inc.'s net operating income of $1.19 per share beat the Zacks Consensus Estimate by 7.21%. However, the bottom line declined 9.8% year over year. Its shares have outperformed its industry in a year's time. Its core businesses are expected to drive the company's earnings. These businesses are higher-growth, higher-return, capital-light businesses, boasting a solid presence. Banking on organic growth, cost savings and capital deployment, the company is well poised for growth. Expansion of distribution network and achievement of efficiencies through automation should drive performance. However, continued weakness in Individual Life resulted in its discontinuation. The company's high leverage due to high debt level and lower interest coverage ratio is a concern. Lower return on equity affects the profitability.

Overview

Incorporated in 1999 and is based in New York, Voya Financial, Inc. operates as a retirement, investment, and employee benefits company in the United States.

The company was formerly known as ING U.S., Inc. and changed its name to Voya Financial, Inc. in April 2014.

Through its complementary set of businesses, Voya Financial help customers save, grow, protect and enjoy their wealth to and through retirement. The company offers products and services through a broad group of financial intermediaries, independent producers, affiliated advisors and dedicated sales specialists throughout the United States.

As of Dec 31, 2019, the company had $602.8 billion in asset under management, asset under administration and total shareholders' equity, excluding accumulated other comprehensive income/loss ("AOCI"), of $6.1 billion.

The company operates through four segments.

Retirement (accounts for 50.1% of adjusted operating revenue in 2019) is a leading provider of retirement products and services. It focuses on guiding Americans to greater retirement readiness through employer-sponsored savings plans and holistic retirement and income guidance.

Investment Management (12.5%) is a leading, active asset management firm servicing both affiliated and external institutions as well as individual investors.

Employee Benefits (37.4%) is a top provider of stop loss coverage in the United States. It also provides a comprehensive and highly flexible portfolio of life, disability, voluntary insurance products, and health savings and spending accounts to businesses through the workplace.

In October 2018, Voya Financial concluded a strategic review of its Individual Life bus

Reasons To Sell:

- ▼ Soft Individual Life Results: The segment has been experiencing lower premiums over the last few years while expenses have been on the rise. The company incurred adjusted pre-tax loss in 2018 versus earnings in the prior years. Thus, following a strategic review, the company decided to stop selling individual life insurance. In the last reported quarter, the company suffered due to unfavourable mortality experience, discontinued sales, net of reserve changes and unlocking impact in its Individual Life segment. In December 2019, the company entered into an agreement to dispose of substantially all of the Individual Life and other closed block non-retirement annuities businesses (the "Individual Life Transaction").
- ▼ High Financial Leverage: The company has been witnessing increase in financial leverage over the last few years. Its debt-to-equity ratio of 43.2% is way higher than the industry average of 13.8%. Also, high leverage indicates higher interest payment. However, in 2019, interest expense reduced 20.4% year over year. Its times interest earned stands at 4.2%, lower than its industry's average of 16.5%. The company's high debt level and reduced interest servicing capability raises financial risk.
- ▼ Return on Assets: Voya Financial return on assets is 0.5%, lower than the industry average of 1.2%. Return on assets shows the percentage of how profitable a company's assets are in generating revenue.

Soft Individual Life results experiencing lower premiums and higher expenses over the last few years and high financial leverage coupled with lower interest coverage ratio are concerns

Risks

- Share Price: Shares of Voya Financial have gained 25.4% in a year's time, outperforming its industry's growth of 13.4%. Solid segmental performance, cost savings initiatives, strong capital position and prudent capital deployment should help the stock retain the bull run.
  - Solid Segment Projection: Voya's core businesses — Retirement, Investment Management and Employee Benefits — are expected to drive the company's earnings. These businesses are higher-growth, higher-return, capital-light businesses boasting a solid presence. Expansion of distribution network and achievement of efficiencies through automation should help the company outperform the industry.
  - EPS Growth: The company remains committed to its goal of annual EPS growth through a combination of organic growth, cost savings, and capital deployment. With continued focus on growth, it expects normalized adjusted operating earnings per share (EPS) to reach a quarterly run rate of $1.80 to $1.90 by the end of 2021. It remains committed to grow normalized adjusted operating EPS by at least 10% in both 2020 and 2021. The company expects to achieve further organic growth in 2020 and 2021.
  - Cost Savings: The company has been focusing on lowering costs for margin expansion. Although its total benefits and expenses rose 4.3% year over year in 2019, we expect the company to generate high cost savings going forward on the back of strategic initiatives. Voya expects to achieve run-rate cost savings of at least $250 million by 2020 end.
  - Strong Capital Position: The company's risk-based capital ratio of 450% is above the new target of 400%. The company expects total free cash flow conversion of 85% to 95% that should continue to support excess capital generation. It had excess capital of $896 million as of Dec 31, 2019. This financial flexibility provides strength to the company.
  - Capital Deployment: Operational excellence has been helping the company deploy capital for enhancing shareholders' value. Its board authorized an extra buyback of worth $800 million common stock in October 2019. Since the company's IPO in 2013, the company paid back about $6 billion of capital to its shareholders, amounting to more than half of its original outstanding shares. Also, by hiking dividend by 1400% to 15 cents in August, 2019, Voya expects to achieve its dividend yield target of at least 1%. Increasing the dividend will help broaden the company's investor base, and will increase its attractiveness.

Last Earnings Report

Voya Financial Beats Q4 Earnings & Revenue Estimates

Voya Financial, Inc.'s VOYA fourth-quarter 2019 net operating income of $1.19 per share beat the Zacks Consensus Estimate by 7.21%. Results gained from the elimination of stranded costs related to the sale of the majority of its annuity business in 2018. However, the bottom line declined 9.8% year over year.

The company's revenues of $276 million surpassed the Zacks Consensus Estimate by 3%. The top line was driven by strong performance in Investment Management and Employee Benefits segments. However, revenues declined 87.4% from the year-ago quarter due to rise in operating expenses.

Assets under management and administration were $603 billion as of Dec 31, 2019.

Business Update

On Dec 18, 2019, Voya Financial agreed to substantially sell all its individual life and other legacy non-retirement annuities businesses to Resolution Life Group Holdings.

Presently, the company reports results under the following segments — Retirement, Investment Management, Employee Benefits and Corporate.

Segmental Performance

Retirement's adjusted operating earnings of $162 million decreased 4.7% year over year on negative DAC/VOBA and other intangibles unlocking, higher fee-based margins due to strong commercial impetus in business and higher equity markets, lower investment income, and higher administrative expenses.

Investment Management posted adjusted operating earnings of $59 million, up 34.1% year over year on higher fee-based margin, driven by higher Institutional fees from positive net flows and lower investment capital revenues. It generated $520 million of institutional net flows.

Employee Benefits' adjusted operating earnings were $55 million, up 27.9% year over year on higher underwriting results, primarily driven by growth in the Voluntary block as well as improvement in the loss ratio for Group Life and higher administrative expenses.

Corporate incurred adjusted operating loss of $98 million. The figure remained flat with the year-ago quarterly loss.

Share Repurchase and Dividend Update

In the fourth quarter of 2019, Voya Financial inked a $200-million accelerated share repurchase (ASR) agreement. Of the total, $160 million shares have been bought back in the fourth quarter. The remaining $40 million are expected to be purchased in the first quarter of 2020.

The company announced a quarterly dividend of 15 cents per share, payable Mar 27, 2020, to shareholders of record as of Feb 28, 2020.

Financial Update

Voya Financial exited the fourth quarter with $896 million in excess capital.

For the year ended Dec 31, 2019, net loss was $379 million against net income of $875 million reported a year ago.

Zacks Style Scores

The Zacks Style Score is as a complementary indicator to the Zacks rating system, giving investors a way to focus on the highest rated stocks that best fit their own stock picking preferences.

Academic research has proven that stocks with the best Value, Growth and Momentum characteristics outperform the market. The Zacks Style Scores rate stocks on each of these individual styles and assigns a rating of A, B, C, D and F. We also produce the VGM Score (V for Value, G for Growth and M for Momentum), which combines the weighted average of the individual Style Scores into one score. This is perfectly suited for those who want their stocks to have the best scores across the board.

Value Score	C
Growth Score	F
Momentum Score	C
VGM Score	F

As an investor, you want to buy stocks with the highest probability of success. That means buying stocks with a Zacks Recommendation of Outperform, which also has a Style Score of an A or a B.
