Summary

Wayfair reported strong second-quarter numbers. It witnessed strong top-line growth owing to the strengthening direct retail business across the United States and international regions. Additionally, expanding active customer base was a tailwind. Wayfair is confident about growth prospects in markets, namely the U.K. and Germany. This can be attributed to its efforts to expand house-brand offerings in these countries. Further, the company is aggressively investing in international regions in order to bolster international presence, which is a tailwind. However, Wayfair is suffering from mounting investment expenses, which are weighing on margin expansion. Further, rising competition from e-commerce giant Amazon poses threat to the company's market position. Notably, the stock has outperformed the industry over a year.

Overview

Wayfair Inc. is headquartered in Boston, Massachusetts. The company is one of the world's leading online sellers of home goods products, consisting of furniture and home decor.

Founded in 2002 as multiple e-commerce websites, the company came together as Wayfair.com in 2011. It operates worldwide through Wayfair.com and four other branded websites namely – Joss & Main, AllModern, Birch Lane and Perigold. The company currently offers more than 18 million products from more than 12,000 suppliers.

Additionally, the company operates in Canada, the U.K. and Germany through Wayfair.ca, Wayfair.co.uk and Wayfair.de, respectively.

The company has its own logistics network which contributed majorly to the total shipment of goods to the customers. The network is comprised of CastleGate and the Wayfair Delivery Network (WDN).

While CastleGate aids in minimizing damages and speeding up deliveries, WDN enables management of large parcel deliveries and facilitates last mile delivery services.

Wayfair generates net revenue from product sales through its five distinct sites and through sites operated by third parties. Wayfair also earns revenues from third-party advertisers that pay based on the number of advertisement-related clicks, actions, or impressions for ads placed on its sites.

Beginning fourth-quarter 2016, Wayfair changed its reportable segments from one to two. These segments are U.S. and International.

In 2019, the company generated a total revenue of $9.13 billion. For the same year, U.S. accounted for 85.1% (up 33.6% from 2018) and International accounted for 14.9% (up 41% year over year).

The company had approximately 16,985 employees worldwide as of Dec 31, 2019.

The market for online home goods and furniture is very competitive, fragmented and rapidly changing. Wayfair competes across all segments of the home goods market. The competition includes furniture stores, big box retailers, department stores, specialty retailers, online retailers and marketplaces in the United States, Canada, the United Kingdom and Germany.

Reasons To Buy:

- ▲ Wayfair is the leader in the growing homes goods market. It is the second-largest participant in the United States online home goods market. The annual United States market for home goods is approximately $270 billion, of which approximately 9% is sold online today as per the company's sec filing. This homes goods market is expected to continue to grow as the housing sector recovers, with rising affluence in specific demographics, driving demand for home goods items. Euromonitor also projects that the United States home goods market will grow about 2.5% annually through 2023. With the mass moving into new homes and the increasing use of online shopping, management expects online sales of home goods to increase. Moreover, with the company's aim to expand in international markets, Wayfair is bound to expand its sales and profits going forward.
- ▲ Over the last few years, Wayfair has been taking steps to strengthen its position in the international markets. It has been making efforts to expand its business in Canada, the United Kingdom, and Germany. In pursuance of this strategy, the company has been building international infrastructure, growing international supplier network and establishing brand presence in selected countries. The company continues to witness strong growth in Canada with the launch of French language site and especially, CastleGate facility.
- ▲ Wayfair has been witnessing strong growth across all its metrics. The percent of orders have increased steadily. In the second quarter, more than 50% of orders were from repeat customers, up 104.9% year over year. The increasing percentage of orders from repeat customers is a big positive for the company as it incurs less of advertising cost to reactivate a previous customer. Also, active customers increased 46% from the year-ago quarter to 26 million.

Wayfair's leading market position in the home goods market, strong metrics growth, focus on international expansion, technology and strong balance sheet are positives

Reasons To Sell:

- ▼ Wayfair's increased advertising spending might impact profitability. The company needs to continuously spend on its advertising to entice new and existing customers and thereby expand its customer base. Also, about 70% of Wayfair's online home products can be found on Amazon with similar pricing on the latter's website. Therefore in order to compete well with Amazon, Wayfair may have to reduce its prices or spend more on advertising. These factors could impact the company's profits going forward.
- ▼ Wayfair faces intense competition from all segments of the home goods market. These include furniture stores, big box retailers, department stores, specialty retailers, online retailers such as Amazon and marketplaces in the U.S., Canada, the United Kingdom and Germany. We believe unhealthy competition might adversely affect both the top line and the bottom-line growth.
- ▼ Adverse Currency Fluctuation May Dent Sales: Wayfair has been expanding its operations in international markets too, and is therefore highly vulnerable to exchange rate volatility. The weakening of the British Pound and Canadian dollar vis-a-vis the United States dollar, may negatively affect sales.

The increasing advertising expenditure, intense competition and foreign currency fluctuation remain concerns.

Zacks Stock Rating System

We offer two rating systems that take into account investors' holding horizons: Zacks Rank and Zacks Recommendation. Each provides valuable insights into the future profitability of the stock and can be used separately or in combination with each other depending on your investment style.

Zacks Recommendation

The Zacks Recommendation aims to predict performance over the next 6 to 12 months. The foundation for the quantitatively determined Zacks Recommendation is trends in the company's estimate revisions and earnings outlook. The Zacks Recommendation is broken down into 3 Levels; Outperform, Neutral and Underperform. Unlike many Wall Street firms, we have an excellent balance between the number of Outperform and Neutral recommendations. Our team of 70 analysts are fully versed in the benefits of earnings estimate revisions and how that is harnessed through the Zacks quantitative rating system. But we have given our analysts the ability to override the Zacks Recommendation for the 1200 stocks that they follow. The reason for the analyst over-rides is that there are often factors such as valuation, industry conditions and management effectiveness that a trained investment professional can spot better than a quantitative model.

Zacks Rank

The Zacks Rank is our short-term rating system that is most effective over the one- to three-month holding horizon. The underlying driver for the quantitatively-determined Zacks Rank is the same as the Zacks Recommendation, and reflects trends in earnings estimate revisions.

Zacks Style Scores

The Zacks Style Score is as a complementary indicator to the Zacks rating system, giving investors a way to focus on the highest rated stocks that best fit their own stock picking preferences.

Academic research has proven that stocks with the best Value, Growth and Momentum characteristics outperform the market. The Zacks Style Scores rate stocks on each of these individual styles and assigns a rating of A, B, C, D and F. We also produce the VGM Score (V for Value, G for Growth and M for Momentum), which combines the weighted average of the individual Style Scores into one score. This is perfectly suited for those who want their stocks to have the best scores across the board.

Value Score	D
Growth Score	A
Momentum Score	C
VGM Score	B

As an investor, you want to buy stocks with the highest probability of success. That means buying stocks with a Zacks Recommendation of Outperform, which also has a Style Score of an A or a B.
